Miss Elkins Comes to Capital for a Visit.

MISSSES PATTEN RETURN HOME

Gen. and Mrs. Corbin to Visit Them Later in the North—Mr. and Mrs. Chadwick Hunter Resting in Massachusetts After Extensive Tour. Miss Perkins and Mr. Cohen Wed.

Miss Katherine Elkins, daughter of the Senator from West Virginia, came up to Washington yesterday from Elkins, W. Va., to remain a few days. Miss Elkins has made some visits to the various horse shows in Virginia, in which she is always greatly interested.

Misses Mary, Josephine, and Nellie Patten, who have been spending some weeks with their sister, Mrs. Henry C. Corbin, in her new country home, Highwood, near Chevy Chase, left Washington yesterday for New York. After spending the remainder of this week there, they will go to Bar Harbor, where they have taken a cottage for the summer. Gen. and Mrs. Corbin, who will make a series of visits later on, will join them in Bar Harbor for a time.

Judge and Mrs. Thomas H. Anderson have closed their home in New Hampshire and gone to Lake Mohonk for the summer season, where they will be joined by Miss Perle Anderson, who is making some other visits just now.

Mr. and Mrs. Chadwick Hunter, the latter formerly Miss Addie Nairn, are at the Occident Hotel, Magnolia Beach, Mass., for the summer. They returned recently from a prolonged visit in California, going thence to New Mexico, where they visited Mr. John Nairn, Mrs. Hunter's brother, formerly of this city, later of Southport, Conn., and now a resident of Wagonmound, on a ranch. Mr. Nairn went to New Mexico to benefit his health, which has greatly improved there. From Mexico Mr. and Mrs. Hunter went to Denver, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Latham, fellow-travelers in California, who entertained them elaborately, taking them on several automobile tours of the State. Mrs. Hunter then came to Washington for a week, before joining Mr. Hunter in New York and going North in their automobile. They have given up their apartment in the Kenesaw and taken one for next season in the Connecticut.

The marriage of Mr. William K. Cohen, organist of Trinity M. E. Church, to Miss Addie Perkins, of this city, took place Monday morning. The ceremony was performed in the parlors of the Hotel George Washington, by the pastor, Rev. H. S. France, at 10 o'clock, and was witnessed by only a few relatives and friends. There were no attendants. The bride wore a gown of mauve cloth, with hat to match, and immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cohen left for a wedding trip to New York and Boston. They will return at the end of the week. Mr. Cohen is one of the best-known local musicians, and a member of one of the oldest families in the District of Columbia. He has been a widower for some years. Miss Perkins is well known and one of the popular young women of Capitol Hill. On their return they will at once open their own home.

Miss Elizabeth Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bepton Kelly, was married last evening to Mr. Charles Preuss Whittington. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. O'Connell, rector, in St. Vincent de Paul's Catholic Church, at 6:30, in the presence of a large company of friends and relatives. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Emily Kelly. Mr. Walter Kline was the best man, and Mr. Joseph Apollonio, Mr. Louis Seltzer, Mr. Nicholas Claff, Mr. Devine, Mr. Morris Whelan, and Mr. George Quinn were the ushers. The bride wore a gown of white point d'esprit over white chiffon and white messaline, and her veil was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her sister wore white point d'esprit over white satin, and carried Marchal Niel roses. A reception for the members of the two families followed the ceremony, and the bride and bridegroom immediately thereafter left for a wedding trip in the North. The bride's going-away gown was of brown serge, with brown hat and gloves. They will be at home after their return, at 6 Third street southeast.

Miss Eleanor Terry, daughter of Rear Admiral Terry, U. S. N., retired, is the guest of Miss Anna Cockrell, daughter of ex-Senator Cockrell, in her cottage at New London, Conn. Miss Cockrell entertained at dinner in her home on Monday evening. Rev. Herbert Shipman, rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley, of New York, whose new home in Washington is rapidly being made ready, has gone to Nova Scotia for a visit. He will join Mrs. Shipman in England later in the season.

The Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Beckman Winthrop, who spent the last week-end as guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Corcoran Eustis in their country place, near Leesburg, Va., have returned to their cottage at Chevy Chase.

The Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Robert Bacon spent the Fourth as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin D. Morgan, at their country place, Wheatley, in Westbury, Long Island. The Morgans had a house party of twenty-six guests, who were joined by the house parties of more than fifty other country residents of Long Island, in the evening, for a magnificent display of fireworks, some of the largest being seen for fifteen miles. After two hours of old-fashioned celebration, there was dancing in the ballroom and supper.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Price announce the engagement of their daughter Eva to Mr. William Harrover Strobel. The wedding will take place in August.

Cards have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Alexander, announcing the marriage of their niece, Miss Margaret

Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley, who have been abroad for some weeks, sailed yesterday for New York.

The Misses Brice, daughters of the late Senator from Ohio, who have been abroad for several months, are expected to arrive to-day in Newport, where they have a cottage for the summer.

A pretty wedding was that last evening of Miss Hannah Burnstine, of this city, and Mr. Emanuel Shuster, of Hoboken, N. J. The ceremony took place in the drawing-rooms at Freund's, in Tenth street, between H and I streets, at 6:30.

Rev. Louis Stern, rabbi of the Eighth Street Temple, officiating. The bride and bridegroom were attended by Miss Grace Burnstine, sister of the former, who acted as maid of honor, and Mr. Marcus Burnstine, her brother, as best man. Three little flower girls, Misses Leona and Mildred Burnstine, and Dorothy Marrow, relatives of the bride, scattered pink and white roses from their picturesque baskets, in the pathway of the bride to the bower of palms in the front drawing-room, where the little party stood for the ceremony. The ushers were Mr. A. Burnstine, of this city, and Mr. Phil Burnstine, of New York, brothers of the bride.

The decorations of the rooms were in pink, white, and green, the long table having pink and silver-capped candles, mounds of lilies of the valley, pink roses and ferns, and the bouquets and leis were of the same colors. The bride's gown was a robe of old point lace, made over white chiffon and satin. She wore a veil of tulle, held with a coronet of orange blossoms, and a diamond heart, the gift of the bridegroom. She also wore several corsage pins and ornaments of diamonds, also gifts of the bridegroom. Her bouquet was a shower of lilies-of-the-valley, and she carried a white and gold Bible, from which the shower was suspended. Miss Grace Burnstine, the maid of honor, wore a gown of white French mousseline and lace, over pink silk, and carried a shower of pink roses. The little flower girls were fairy-like in their hair, carrying baskets of pink and white roses. A following supper followed the ceremony, after which the bride and bridegroom led the dancing, which continued until their departure for the train which carried them Northward. The bride wore a going-away gown of blue rajah with coat, hat, gloves, parasol, and bag to match. They will spend a fortnight in the Catskills, and sail the first week in August for Europe. Their home will be in Hoboken.

The music was a feature of the occasion. It was furnished by Mr. Sol Minster's orchestra, which played the bridal music from "Lohengrin" for the entrance of the bride, and the Mendelssohn "Wedding March" for the march to the supper table, which was led by the bride and bridegroom. Later they played for the dancing. After the supper, Mrs. Phil Burnstine, of New York, sister-in-law of the bride, and a singer of much reputation in New York, sang several operatic numbers, among them the polonaise from "Mignon."

Mrs. Burnstine, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of black lace over black satin; Mrs. A. Burnstine, sister-in-law of the bride, wore white batiste with lace yoke and an effective arrangement of lace in bodice and skirt, with diamond ornaments; Mrs. Phil Burnstine wore a lace robe over silk. Other guests were Mr. Harry Burnstine, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marrow, Mr. and Mrs. Marrow, Miss Viola Brothers, and Mr. Martin Burnstine, all of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Jacoby, Mr. William Jacoby, Miss Hilda Jacoby, Mr. Herbert Jacoby, Jr., Mrs. B. Burnstine, Mr. and Mrs. S. Burnstine, Mr. and Mrs. J. BRIDE OF PRINCE NOW

Mme. Anna Gould Finally Weds Helie de Sagan.

CIVIL MARRIAGE IS SIMPLE

Second Rites Gone Through in the French Protestant Church, the Groom Having Abandoned His Catholic Faith—Unable to Escape Prying Eyes of Curious Crowd.

London, July 7.—Mme. Anna Gould and Prince Helie de Sagan were married at a registry office in Henrietta street, off Covent Garden, to-day.

A subsequent ceremony was conducted at the French Protestant Church, in Soho square.

There was absolutely no secret about the wedding. The civil ceremony was simple. Outside of Prince Helie, Mme. Gould, the witnesses, and the officials, no one was present. A great crowd, consisting largely of porters from the Covent Garden market and employees of the publishing-houses in the vicinity, assembled in the street outside. Prince Helie produced a copy of the notice filed with the registrar establishing his two weeks' residence in the district, and the registrar granted his license.

Mme. Gould and the prince signed the register, describing themselves as had been done in the banns published in Paris. Armed with the registrar's certificate, the party, again leaving the building by the back door, drove in cabs to the French Protestant Church, hidden away in a corner of Soho square.

Pass Into Church.
The party passed into the church almost unnoticed. They were followed by only a half dozen reporters and a few poorly dressed parishioners. They were escorted to the vestry, and the pastor, Rev. L. Degremont, carefully read the document brought from the registry office. Having satisfied himself of its correctness, he escorted the couple to the altar, while Mme. Raneau, a daughter of the assistant pastor of the church, played the hymn "Abide with Me" on the organ.

The ceremony was quite in keeping with the simple character of the church, but it was rather long. While it was proceeding, several photographers, who had come in with the party, took snapshots of the couple as they stood at the altar.

Mme. Gould and Prince Helie both answered the usual questions in a firm voice, but the bride turned nervously to the small congregation when the quietness of the church was disturbed by the clicking of camera shutters.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the pastor, as is the custom of the church, presented Prince Helie a Bible, and then congratulated them. After this he led the way back to the vestry, where the church registry was signed. The witnesses were Baron de Fontenille and C. Bonchavain. The only other person with the party was Prince Helie's private secretary.

The Bride's Gown.
Mme. Gould wore a handsome costume of cream-colored silk, richly embroidered, and a straw hat to match, trimmed with osprey feathers.

After a few introductions to members of the pastor's family, Prince Helie de Sagan and his wife, followed by the witnesses and the prince's secretary, made their way to the carriages. The crowd outside properly stood aside to let them pass through.

Upon arriving at the hotel, the prince and his wife sat down to a wedding breakfast with a few friends.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL

By HELEN ROWLAND.
The first child makes a man proud, the second makes him happy, the third makes him humble, and the fourth makes him desperate.
When a man declares that making love to a particular woman "wouldn't be right," he really means that it wouldn't be safe; but he is too polite to say that.

In fragile moments we think of trifles; no doubt a girl who is being run down by an automobile stops to thank heaven that there are no holes in her stockings, and a man that there are no incriminating letters in his pockets.

A man's idea of showing real consideration for his wife is to make sure that she won't find out what he is doing before he does anything that she would disapprove of.

Of course there are men who can't be flattered, but they are all in asylums for the deaf.

Between lovers a little confession is a dangerous thing. Call a woman weak-minded and a man will wonder if you aren't jealous of her; but call her strong-minded and he will take your word without stopping to investigate.

PLANS AT NEW CITY HALL.

Practically the Moving Has Been Completed by District.

The task of getting things in order in the new Municipal Building has progressed so rapidly in the last two days that the Commissioners issued an order yesterday rescinding their order of some weeks ago, closing the building to the public at noon each day, for the purpose of allowing the afternoon to the clerks for arranging the offices. From 9 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, beginning this morning the building is open for the transaction of public business.

All offices have been moved in the new quarters, excepting one small section of the fire alarm headquarters, which is still in operation at the old building. All of the remaining records and effects of several of the departments which had not been transferred were carried up yesterday, so that now all that is left to be done is the arrangement of files, books, &c., in their proper places.

Most of the handsome new furniture has arrived and has been placed in the various rooms. The only inconvenience in some of the offices is the lack of chairs. Owing to the size of the order for the District and the pressure of business in some of the factories this furniture will not be here for some weeks to come.

MONUMENT TO JOHNSON.

Memorial to Former President Unveiled in Tennessee.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Bristol, Va., July 7.—The Andrew Johnson National Cemetery, at Greenville, established as a tribute to the memory of President Andrew Johnson, was formally opened with appropriate ceremonies Saturday.

Little Margaret Johnson Patterson, great granddaughter of the tailor President, unfurled the beautiful United States flag to the winds, after it had been hoisted to the top of the flag staff.

In the center of the cemetery stands the magnificent Johnson monument. The location is an ideal one, and through the cemetery there are long driveways and an abundance of granolithic walks. Landscaping artists worked for months in laying out the plot. An original appropriation of $35,000, secured by Representative Brownlow, was supplemented with another appropriation of $20,000, so that the cemetery cost about $55,000.

SIMPLE FUNERAL SERVICES.

Noted Men Pallbearers for the Late Murat Halstead.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 7.—Among the pallbearers at the funeral of Murat Halstead, the editor and author, were Judge Alexander L. Huston and Stephen Gerard, who officiated, fifty-one years ago, as best man and groomsmen at his wedding; the other pallbearers being Henry Watterson, the Louisville editor; Mayor Markbreit, Senator J. B. Foraker, John J. Platt, Capt. J. Banks, Edmond Lunken, Thornton M. Hinkle, Charles P. Taft, Frank Wilberg, John W. Washington, and M. M. White.

The simple services were conducted by Bishop John M. Walden, a boyhood schoolmate of the dead journalist, at the late residence, interment being at Spring Grove Cemetery, in this city.

MISSSES' DRAWERS MODEL.

She declares that there are several other possibilities in her old-fashioned treasure, one of which is trimming for undergarments. The apron had a ruffle with a pointed edge instead of the usual scallop, and ruffles she is going to make for garments of long cloth and they are to be run with washable wool flannel, the coarse variety. They will outwear the cloth and be exceedingly dainty, for I happen to know of a stage dancer whose lingerie is trimmed with this kind of lace, and frequent washings has no perceptible effect upon its wearing quality. She uses it from a sense of economy, but nothing could be daintier or prettier.
